01.3 SOURCE A‘Rights and duties’

The rights a citizen has in a democracy are often linked to duties. Some duties are legally binding. Others are not. For example, citizens have a right to vote but voting is not compulsory in the UK.

Voting is often seen as a duty because many people think that for a democracy to be successful, the voices of all citizens should be heard. This is achieved most effectively when all citizens vote.

Describe why it is important for British society that citizens fulfil TWO other duties, NOT mentioned in SOURCE A.
[4 marks]

02.3 SOURCE B

‘The need for mutual respect and understanding in a diverse society’

UK politicians often talk about the need for greater tolerance of difference in Britain’s diverse society.

One way this was attempted was the introduction in 2011 of the National Citizenship Service (NCS) for 15–17 year olds.

One purpose of the NCS is to help young people gain an understanding of social diversity and the importance of tolerating others.

Describe TWO ways, not mentioned in SOURCE B, that could make British citizens more tolerant of diversity.

03.4 SOURCE C‘Non-Governmental Organisations (NGOs)’

In March 2019 Cyclone Idai caused massive flooding in Mozambique. Large areas were left without communications, without power and without clean water.

Houses and crops disappeared beneath six metres of flood water. Roads and bridges were also destroyed by the flooding. The survivors had to find shelter from the flood on rooftops and in trees. An eyewitness said the effects of the flood were “like living through a full-scale war”.

The economic cost of the flood also halted progress in reducing poverty in Mozambique.

With reference to SOURCE C, describe how an NGO might respond to this humanitarian crisis. [4 marks]

06.3 SOURCE D‘Criminal law’

In criminal law the Crown Prosecution Service (CPS) decides whether or not to bring a case to court and put the defendant on trial.

During the trial the defendant is presumed innocent until proven guilty. This means the prosecution must prove that the defendant is guilty beyond reasonable doubt.

The defendant will be found guilty or not guilty. If the defendant is found guilty they will be punished with either a non-custodial or custodial sentence.

With reference to SOURCE D, describe TWO ways civil law differs from criminal law in the UK. [4 marks]

07.3 SOURCE E‘Strategies to reduce knife crime’

One strategy to reduce the rise in knife crime in London has been to set up the Violent Crime Taskforce. The taskforce will provide extra police officers to investigate knife crime.

Another strategy used has been community engagement work to encourage gang members to stop being involved with gangs.

As one former gang member said: “To fit in you had to do certain things. So I started carrying a knife when I was 12, because everyone did.”

Describe how TWO strategies, NOT mentioned in SOURCE E, could be used to reduce knife crime. [4 marks]
