TASK

Carry out an investigation of service provision in relation to service users with mental health problems. Your investigation should address the following:

- An understanding of the role and benefits of voluntary sector organisations in providing care for service users with mental health problems, using The Northern Ireland Association of Mental Health (Niamh) to inform you.
- A detailed understanding of the needs of service users with mental health problems and how these might be met by Niamh.
- The roles of a range of health and social care practitioners who provide care and support for service users with mental health problems.
- An understanding of the barriers to accessing services for service users with mental health problems and how these barriers might be broken down.
- An evaluation of the impact of "care in the community" for people with mental health problems.
- The role of The Mental Health (NI) Order 1986 (amended 2004) in the care of service users with mental health problems.
- Funding of services in the mixed economy of care.
- An understanding of the benefits of effective inter-agency co-operation for service users with mental health problems living in the community.
- A detailed understanding of the role of the Community Psychiatric Nurse (CPN).
- An understanding of the ways quality of care can be measured in psychiatric hospitals.
- An evaluation of a range of policies used in care settings for service users with mental health problems.

(c)	Community Psychiatric Nurses (CPNs) play a very important role in providing care and support for service users with mental health problems who live in the community. They are often responsible for administering medication to service users such as monthly injections of drugs which help to alleviate symptoms and allow individuals to live independent lives.	Examiner Only Marks Remark
