MARK SCHEME

Maximum Mark: 50

---

Published

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the question paper and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

Cambridge International will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge International is publishing the mark schemes for the May/June 2024 series for most Cambridge IGCSE, Cambridge International A and AS Level and Cambridge Pre-U components, and some Cambridge O Level components.

This document consists of 12 printed pages.

Generic Marking Principles

These general marking principles must be applied by all examiners when marking candidate answers. They should be applied alongside the specific content of the mark scheme or generic level descriptions for a question. Each question paper and mark scheme will also comply with these marking principles.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 1:

Marks must be awarded in line with:

- the specific content of the mark scheme or the generic level descriptors for the question
- the specific skills defined in the mark scheme or in the generic level descriptors for the question
- the standard of response required by a candidate as exemplified by the standardisation scripts.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 2:

Marks awarded are always whole marks (not half marks, or other fractions).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 3:

Marks must be awarded positively:

- marks are awarded for correct/valid answers, as defined in the mark scheme. However, credit is given for valid answers which go beyond the scope of the syllabus and mark scheme, referring to your Team Leader as appropriate
- marks are awarded when candidates clearly demonstrate what they know and can do
- marks are not deducted for errors
- marks are not deducted for omissions
- answers should only be judged on the quality of spelling, punctuation and grammar when these features are specifically assessed by the question as indicated by the mark scheme. The meaning, however, should be unambiguous.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 4:

Rules must be applied consistently, e.g. in situations where candidates have not followed instructions or in the application of generic level descriptors.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 5:

Marks should be awarded using the full range of marks defined in the mark scheme for the question (however; the use of the full mark range may be limited according to the quality of the candidate responses seen).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 6:

Marks awarded are based solely on the requirements as defined in the mark scheme. Marks should not be awarded with grade thresholds or grade descriptors in mind.

Information about annotations

For creditworthy content, point-based marking makes use of tick1 and tick2 annotations, the first showing a single mark is to be awarded and the second, where appropriate, that a developed point has been made, worthy of two marks.

In levels-based marking, plain ticks and DEV will be the main annotations for valid content points.

Where required Bal shows where a (dis)advantage has been noted.

BOD (benefit of doubt) can be useful to show marginal decisions where the point is not totally convincing but where credit is given.

There are various reasons why content considered might not gain credit and the following annotations help us to distinguish these somewhat:

? the point is either unclear, illogical or unconvincing in some other way.

the point is incorrect, perhaps factually, or the wrong word or point has been offered.

NAQ 'not answering the question'; perhaps the material relates to a later question, or simply comes from the wrong part of the material

NAR 'narration', usually used in levels-based, longer responses; information is included but no real point is made, for example, it might not be clear whether the intended point is an advantage or a disadvantage

REP repetition of the same/an earlier point

TV 'too vague' the response is not making the required point clearly or precisely enough

Sometimes the candidate has not followed the instructions fully and this needs to be shown by red highlighting over those words, phrases or sections which have not made sufficient use of own words to convey a point. Also used for highlighting lifted material on own words questions to block out words copied too closely from the text to make marking clearer. Finally, the red highlighter is used for indicating the position of the word count on those questions.

1(a)	With reference to the Additional Information, explain why Olivia ‘refused emphatically’ to put herself forward for election, despite Mr Beppe’s pleas. Credit any two of the following points or any other valid point. She is hoping to achieve top grades in both her ballet and piano examinations this year, (1) which will both require hours of practice outside college hours / but, as a final year student, she knew she would have a lot of homework / so she probably thought that the extra responsibility of being class representative would be too much / would affect adversely her performances in these examinations. (1) 1 + 1	2

1(b)	With reference to Elisavetta’s leaflet and the Additional Information, explain why she might not be a suitable candidate. Do not refer to Armando. Answer in continuous prose. Credit any of the following points or any other valid point. Her leaflet is very casual/informal in style, with its informal language and heart-shaped bullet points and hearts/balloons as border, (leaflet) so she might find it difficult to represent her class to the best effect/effectively in formal council meetings/and make notes at the meeting which are published to the whole college. (Additional Information) She seems/appears to be relieved/ surprised to make it to the final year of college, so this suggests she might have found college life difficult to negotiate academically/ pastorally. (leaflet) Some classmates might think that, having had a female class representative the year before, it might be the turn of a male student to be class representative. (leaflet) She claimed to have never let any of them down doing things/ to love getting things done (leaflet), but she was supposed to help Brianna organise a charity event last year, but kept making excuses instead. (Additional Information) She said that classmates could come to her and she would take the time to listen to them (leaflet), but once, on finding a classmate in tears, she told them she was too busy to stop and talk. (Additional Information) Her motivation for standing for election is not really the best: she recently realised that she had not taken part in any extra-curricular activities to write about on any university application form (Additional Information) or other information that indicates Elisavetta is applying out of self-interest/selfishness. Elisavetta crashed into Mrs Eriksson’s car recently (Additional Information), so Mrs Eriksson, who attends every meeting, might not allow her a proper hearing at council meetings/ the class’ proposals might not get a positive reception at council meetings.(Additional Information)	10

In assessing the answer award marks for a coherent appraisal, clearly expressed, of three or more relevant considerations, including balance, that make use of analytical skills.
