

Brownian motion

Define Brownian motion:

Brownian motion is the random movement of large molecules due to their collision with the faster moving smaller molecules.

Following is a diagram for brownian motion

