for the guidance of teachers

0509 FIRST LANGUAGE CHINESE

0509/02

Paper 2 (Writing), maximum raw mark 40

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes must be read in conjunction with the question papers and the report on the examination.

Cambridge will not enter into discussions or correspondence in connection with these mark schemes.

Cambridge is publishing the mark schemes for the May/June 2011 question papers for most IGCSE, GCE Advanced Level and Advanced Subsidiary Level syllabuses and some Ordinary Level syllabuses.

Candidates will be awarded marks in two categories for the composition that they write:

- the first mark is out of 20 for Style and Accuracy: see Table A; •
- Cambridge.com the second mark is out of 20 for Content and Structure: see Table B1, B2 or B3 (depending on the type of composition: Argumentative, Descriptive or Narrative).

TABLE A – STYLE AND ACCURACY

Band 1	18–20	 Fluent; variety of well made sentences, including sophisticated complex sentences where appropriate, used to achieve particular effects. Wide, consistently effective range of vocabulary with appropriately used ambitious words. Assured use of grammar and punctuation, spelling accurate.
Band 2	15–17	 Mostly fluent; sentences correctly constructed, including a variety of complex sentences. Vocabulary often effective, sometimes complex, mostly varied. Grammatically correct; punctuation mostly correct between and within sentences; very occasional spelling mistakes.
Band 3	12–14	 Occasional fluency; sentences of some variety and complexity, correctly constructed. Appropriate and accurate vocabulary with occasional examples of choice made to communicate precise meaning or to give interest. Simple grammatical constructions correct; sentence separation mostly correct but other forms of punctuation sometimes inconsistently used; occasional spelling mistakes – but no error of any sort impedes communication.
Band 4	9–11	 Sentences tend to be simple and patterns repetitive. Where more complicated structures are attempted there is lack of clarity and inaccuracy. Vocabulary communicates general meaning accurately. Some errors of punctuation including sentence separation; several spelling and grammatical errors, rarely serious.
Band 5	6–8	 There may be the occasional grammatically complex sentence but mostly these are simple and repetitively joined by 'and', 'but' and 'so', with other conjunctions being used ineffectively, if at all. Vocabulary communicates simple details/facts accurately. Many errors of punctuation, grammar and spelling, but the overall meaning is never in doubt.
Band 6	3–5	 Sentences are simple and sometimes faulty and/or rambling sentences obscure meaning. Vocabulary is limited and may be inaccurate. Errors of punctuation, grammar and spelling may be serious enough to impede meaning.
	0, 1, 2	• Meaning of the writing is often lost because of poor control of language; errors of punctuation, grammar and spelling too intrusive to award a mark in Band 6.

Band 1	18–20	Mark Scheme: Teachers' version Syllabus IGCSE – May/June 2011 0509 MENTATIVE/DISCURSIVE TASKS • There is a consistent quality of well developed, logical stages in an over at times complex, argument. • Each stage is linked to and follows the preceding one. Sentences within paragraphs are soundly sequenced.
Band 2	15–17	 Each stage of the argument is defined and developed, although the quality of the explanation may not be consistent. The stages follow in a generally cohesive progression. Paragraphs are mostly well sequenced, although some may finish less strongly than they begin.
Band 3	12–14	 some of them. These points are logical/coherent. Band 5	6–8	A few relevant points are made and although they are expanded into paragraphs, development is very simple and not always logical. Overall structure lacks a sense of sequencing. Band 1	18–20	Mark Scheme: Teachers' version Syllabus IGCSE – May/June 2011 0509 TIVE TASKS There are many well defined, well developed ideas and images, describ complex atmospheres with a range of details. Overall structure is provided through devices such as the movements of the writer, the creation of a short time span, or the creation of atmosphere or tension. Focus is description (not storytelling). Repetition is avoided and the sequence of sentences makes the picture clear to the reader.
Band 2	15–17	 There is a good selection of interesting ideas and images, with a range of details. These are formed into an overall picture of some clarity, largely consistent. There may be occasional repetition and opportunities for development or the provision of detail may be missed. Sentences are often well sequenced and the description is often effective.
Band 3	12–14	 There is a selection of effective ideas and images that are relevant to the topic and which satisfactorily address the task. An attempt is made to create atmosphere and to provide some details. The description provides a series of points rather than a sense of their being combined to make an overall picture, but some of the ideas are developed successfully, albeit straightforwardly. Some sentences are well sequenced.

ABLE B3	6 – NARRA	ATIVE TASKS	Call
Band 1	18–20	Mark Scheme: Teachers' version Syllabus IGCSE – May/June 2011 0509 RATIVE TASKS Section 1000 • The narrative is complex and sophisticated and may contain devices s as subtexts, flashbacks and time lapses. Cogent details are provided where necessary or appropriate. • The different sections of the story are carefully balanced and the climax carefully managed. Sentence sequences are sometimes arranged to produce effects such as the building up of tension or providing a sudden turn of events.
Band 2	15–17	 The writing develops some features that are of interest to a reader, although not consistently so. Expect the use of detail and some build-up of character or setting. The writing is orderly and the beginning and ending (where required) are satisfactorily managed. The reader is aware of the climax even if it is not managed completely effectively. The sequencing of sentences provides clarity and engages the reader in events or atmosphere.
Band 3	12–14	 A straightforward story (or part of story) with satisfactory identification of features such as character and setting. While opportunities for appropriate development of ideas are sometimes missed, the overall structure is competent, and features of a developed narrative are evident. Sentences are usually sequenced to narrate events.
Band 4	9–11	 A relevant response to the topic, but largely a series of events with occasional details of character and setting. The overall structure is sound although there are examples where a particular section is too long or too short. A climax is identified but is not effectively described or led up to. Sentence sequences narrate events and occasionally contain intrusive facts or misleading ideas.
Band 5	6–8	 A simple narrative with a beginning, middle and end (where appropriate). It may consist of simple, everyday happenings or unlikely, un-engaging events. Unequal or inappropriate importance is given to the sections of the story. Dialogue that has no function may be used or over-used. There is no real climax. Sentence sequences are used only to link simple series of events.
Band 6	3–5	 Stories are very simple and narrate even simple and lack effect. The shape of the narrative is unclear; relevance to the plot. Sequences of s leading to a lack of clarity. 	some of the content has
