Paper 3 (Directed Writing and Composition), maximum raw mark 50

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes must be read in conjunction with the question papers and the report on the examination.

CIE will not enter into discussions or correspondence in connection with these mark schemes.

CIE is publishing the mark schemes for the October/November 2010 question papers for most IGCSE, GCE Advanced Level and Advanced Subsidiary Level syllabuses and some Ordinary Level syllabuses.

Question 1

Section 1: Directed writing

Question 1

This question tests Writing Objectives W1–W5 (15 marks):

- Articulate experience and express what is thought, felt and imagined
- Order and present facts, ideas and opinions
- Understand and use a range of appropriate vocabulary

- Select, analyse and evaluate what is relevant to specific purposes.

Imagine that you and a schoolfriend heard the broadcast. You disagree on whether you would want to become like Daniel Li. Write the dialogue you have with your friend, in which you discuss Daniel Li's life so far and argue about the desirability of becoming successful in business at a young age.

In your dialogue you should identify and comment on the personal characteristics which have made Daniel Li successful and evaluate the sacrifices he has made and whether they are worth it.

Base what you write on the transcript you have read. You should write between 1<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> and 2 sides, allowing for the size of your handwriting. Up to ten marks will be available for the content of your answer, and up to fifteen marks for the quality of your writing. [25]

General notes on likely content

- Characteristics required to be successful in business (implicit) Α
- Precociousness (started age 13). •
- Determination in pursuing a goal (needed an instrument).
- Commitment (stayed up all night).
- Self-belief (have a nose for a good deal).
- Versatility; being willing to diversify (branched out; music just the start).
- Instinct for what people need (realising potential market for under-18 discos).
- Resilience (bounced back from major loss).
- Ability to learn from mistakes (choosing partners more carefully).
- Not afraid to take risks (business ventures always involve some risk).
- Not needing to conform to expectations (didn't go to university with peers; not 'conventional').
- Enjoyment of variety and travel ('constantly on the move'; not wanting to be bored).
- Not afraid to try something new ('revolutionary'; going into new markets).
- Positive thinking; confidence in future (no reason why company shouldn't grow).
- Patience and perseverance (nine months to launch new project; 'can't be rushed').
- Ability to accept reality (know when to walk away).
- Not complacent ('new challenges' and new ideas).
- Always looking ahead ('in five years').
- Ambitious (rock band at 13; politics while still in his twenties); always aiming higher.
- Excitement and enthusiasm (lying awake at night making plans).
- В Sacrifices (explicit and implicit)
- Spent all his time in his room as a teenager; no friendships, sport or 'normal life'. .
- Losing a guarter of a million dollars; having to start again 'from scratch'.
- No social or personal life now; lonely.
- Lost touch with family; grew away from them because of his wealth.
- No qualifications; could be a problem later.
- Did not have experience of university; may have disappointed parents' hopes for him.
- Never achieved his ambition to have a band because no time to pursue it.
- No prospect of getting married (or spending time with a future family).
- No time to ever visit his four houses.
- Nomadic existence; never anywhere longer than a week; can't settle; nowhere to call home.
- Constant travel exhausting.
- Lives entirely indoors; sees very little of countries he visits.
- No time for hobbies or holidays or keeping fit.
- Physically unhealthy existence (no relaxation, unfit, stressed, no fresh air).
- No peace of mind; fear of envy and ruthless rivals.
- No privacy; need for bodyguard.
- Can not sleep at night; always has to stay one move ahead; can not switch off.

N.B. the discriminator is the evaluation of whether the candidate believes the sacrifices were worth it: it requires them to draw inferences and make judgements about whether the drawbacks outweigh the 'enviable life-style', and whether they personally would be willing to make them. Perceptive responses will note in A that Daniel has some unattractive qualities, and lead on from this in B. Ideas and opinions must, however, remain connected to the passage, while developing its claims and assessing their implications. The arguments in the dialogue should be clear and persuasive.

Band 1	Page 4       Mark Scheme: Teachers' version       Syllabus         IGCSE – October/November 2010       0500         The question is marked out of 10 for Reading and 15 for Writing.         Jse the following table to give a mark out of 10 for Reading.         Band 1       9–10         Makes a thorough, perceptive, convincing evaluation of the ideas in the passage and the speaker's character. Reads effectively between the lines. Develops the reading material and integrates it into the response to the task.
Band 2	nd 2 7–8 A good evaluation of the passage, using reading material to support the argument. Occasionally effective development of some of the ideas in the material.
Band 3	1d 3 5–6 A number of points are quoted to make a satisfactory response. Responses cover the material satisfactorily, but may miss opportunities to develop it relevantly or at length.
Band 4	and 4 3–4 Selects points from the passage rather literally and/or uses material thinly Does not combine points into a connected piece.
Band 5	1–2 Parts of the answer are relevant, though material may be repeated injudiciously, or wrongly used.
Band 6

Use the following table to give a mark out of 15 for Writing.

Band 1	13–15	Excellent, consistent sense of audience; persuasive/authoritative style; very fit for purpose. Fluent, varied sentences/wide range of vocabulary. Strong sense of structure, paragraphing and sequence. Virtually no error.
Band 2	10–12	Sense of audience mostly secure; quite stylish and fluent; sense of overall structure; arguments occasionally well developed. Writing is mainly accurate, sentences and language generally effective in places.
Band 3	8–9	Occasional sense of audience; mostly written in accurate, if fairly straightforward sentences; some argument, though not strong; mostly quite well structured; errors minor; language straightforward.
Band 4	5–7	Appropriate if sometimes inconsistent style; sentences mainly accurate; fact rather than argument; basic structure: has beginning, middle and end; fairly frequent (minor) errors; perhaps including sentence separation; sentences and/or vocabulary simple.
Band 5	3–4	Functional expression; largely factual with little/no argument; has a beginning, but main part of response not always well sequenced; some serious errors in grammar/punctuation/use of vocabulary. Errors slightly intrusive.
Band 6	1–2	Language and style not clear; some blurring and lack of order; despite some serious errors, can mainly be followed. Simple sentences.
Band 7	0	Serious inaccuracies and difficulties with language and grammar are too intrusive to gain a mark in Band 6.

The maximum overall mark for the Composition is 25. Write the total clearly at the end as follows: C7 + S10 = 17 (C for Content and Structure, S for Style and Accuracy).

Argumentative/discursive writing 2 (a) Discuss why it is easier to go to war than to achieve peace. [25] (b) Discuss an invention which changed people's lives in some way, commenting on its impact at the time and why it still plays an important role today. [25] Descriptive writing 3 (a) Describe the surroundings and your emotions at a time when you felt very alone. [25] (b) Imagine that you are up in a hot air balloon. Describe what you see below and how the experience makes you feel. [25] Narrative writing 4 (a) 'At last I could see a light at the end of the tunnel.' Use this sentence to either begin or end a story. [25] (b) You see an advertisement in a local newspaper which says: 'Are you brave and adventurous? Then telephone this number and change your life.' Start the story with the phone call you make.
