But I've only a few minutes -Ben: Willy: No! Boys! Boys! [Young Biff and Happy appear.] Listen to this. This is your Uncle Ben, a great man! Tell my boys, Ben! Ben: Why boys, when I was seventeen I walked into the jungle, and when I was twenty-one I walked out. [He laughs.] And by God I was rich. 5 Willy: [to the boys] You see what I been talking about? The greatest things can happen! [glancing at his watch] I have an appointment in Ketchikan Tuesday Ben: week. Willy: No, Ben! Please tell about Dad. I want my boys to hear. I want them to 10 know the kind of stock they spring from. All I remember is a man with a big beard, and I was in Mamma's lap, sitting around a fire, and some kind of high music. His flute. He played the flute. Ben: Sure, the flute, that's right! 15 Willy: [New music is heard, a high, rollicking tune.] Father was a very great and a very wild-hearted man. We would start in Ben: Boston, and he'd toss the whole family into the wagon, and then he'd drive the team right across the country; through Ohio, and Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, and all the Western states. And we'd stop in the towns 20 and sell the flutes that he'd made on the way. Great inventor, Father. With one gadget he made more in a week than a man like you could make in a lifetime. That's just the way I'm bringing them up, Ben - rugged, well liked, all-Willy: 25 around. Ben: Yeah? [To Biff] Hit that, boy - hard as you can. [He pounds his stomach.] Biff: Oh, no, sir! Ben: [taking boxing stance] Come on, get to me! [He laughs.] Go to it, Biff! Go ahead, show him! 30 Willy: Okay! [He cocks his fists and starts in.] Biff: [to Willy] Why must he fight, dear? Linda: [sparring with Biff] Good boy! Good boy! Ben: Willy: How's that, Ben, heh? Give him the left, Biff! 35 Happy: Linda: Why are you fighting? Ben: Good boy! [Suddenly comes in, trips Biff, and stands over him, the point of his umbrella poised over Biff's eye.] Linda: Look out, Biff! Biff: Gee! 40 Ben: [patting Biff's knee] Never fight fair with a stranger, boy. You'll never get out of the jungle that way. [Taking Linda's hand and bowing] It was an honour and a pleasure to meet you, Linda. Linda: [withdrawing her hand coldly, frightened] Have a nice – trip. Ben: [to Willy] And good luck with your – what do you do? 45 Willy: Selling. Ben: Yes. Well ... [He raises his hand in farewell to all.] Willy: No, Ben, I don't want you to think ... [He takes Ben's arm to show him.] It's Brooklyn, I know, but we hunt too. Ben: Really, now. 50

Enter Benedick. Claudio: Now, signior, what news? Benedick: Good day, my lord. Don Pedro: Welcome, signior; you are almost come to part almost a fray. 5 Claudio: We had lik'd to have had our two noses snapp'd off with two old men without teeth. Don Pedro: Leonato and his brother. What think'st thou? Had we fought, I doubt we should have been too young for them. Benedick: In a false guarrel there is no true valour. I came to seek you both. 10 Claudio: We have been up and down to seek thee; for we are highproof melancholy, and would fain have it beaten away. Wilt thou use thy wit? Benedick: It is in my scabbard; shall I draw it? Don Pedro: Dost thou wear thy wit by thy side? 15 Never any did so, though very many have been beside their wit. I will Claudio: bid thee draw, as we do the minstrels - draw to pleasure us. Don Pedro: As I am an honest man, he looks pale. Art thou sick or angry? Claudio: What, courage, man! What though care kill'd a cat, thou hast mettle enough in thee to kill care. 20 Benedick: Sir, I shall meet your wit in the career, an you charge it against me. I pray you choose another subject. Claudio: Nay, then, give him another staff; this last was broke cross. Don Pedro: By this light, he changes more and more; I think he be angry indeed. Claudio: If he be, he knows how to turn his girdle. 25 Benedick: Shall I speak a word in your ear? Claudio: God bless me from a challenge! Benedick: [Aside to Claudio] You are a villain; I jest not; I will make it good how you dare, with what you dare, and when you dare. Do me right, or I will protest your cowardice. You have kill'd a sweet lady, and her 30 death shall fall heavy on you. Let me hear from you. Claudio: Well, I will meet you, so I may have good cheer. Don Pedro: What, a feast? a feast? Claudio: I' faith, I thank him; he hath bid me to a calf 's head and a capon, the 35 which if I do not carve most curiously, say my knife's naught. Shall I not find a woodcock too? Benedick: Sir, your wit ambles well; it goes easily. Don Pedro: I'll tell thee how Beatrice prais'd thy wit the other day. I said thou hadst a fine wit. 'True,' said she 'a fine little one.' 'No,' said I 'a great wit.' 'Right,' says she 'a great gross one.' 'Nay,' said I 'a good wit.' 40 'Just,' said she 'it hurts nobody.' 'Nay,' said I 'the gentleman is wise.' 'Certain,' said she 'a wise gentleman.' 'Nay,' said I 'he hath the tongues.' 'That I believe,' said she 'for he swore a thing to me on Monday night, which he forswore on Tuesday morning. There's a double tongue; there's two tongues.' Thus did she, an hour together, 45 trans-shape thy particular virtues; yet, at last, she concluded, with a sigh, thou wast the proper'st man in Italy. Claudio: For the which she wept heartily, and said she cared not. Don Pedro: Yea, that she did; but yet, for all that, an if she did not hate him deadly, she would love him dearly. The old man's daughter told us all.

How does Shakespeare make you admire Benedick at this moment in the play? [25]

Or †4 To what extent does Shakespeare make the ending of the play satisfying for you? [25]

www.papacambridge.com 8 WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE: Julius Caesar Remember to support your ideas with details from the writing. Either *5 Read this passage, and then answer the question that follows it: Another general shout! Brutus: I do believe that these applauses are For some new honours that are heap'd on Caesar. Cassius: Why, man, he doth bestride the narrow world Like a Colossus, and we petty men 5 Walk under his huge legs, and peep about To find ourselves dishonourable graves. Men at some time are masters of their fates: The fault, dear Brutus, is not in our stars, But in ourselves, that we are underlings. 10 'Brutus' and 'Caesar'. What should be in that 'Caesar'? Why should that name be sounded more than yours? Write them together: yours is as fair a name. Sound them: it doth become the mouth as well. Weigh them: it as heavy. Conjure with 'em: 15 'Brutus' will start a spirit as soon as 'Caesar'. Now, in the names of all the gods at once, Upon what meat doth this our Caesar feed, That he is grown so great? Age, thou art sham'd! Rome, thou has lost the breed of noble bloods! 20 When went there by an age, since the great flood, But it was fam'd with more than with one man? When could they say, till now, that talk'd of Rome, That her wide walls encompass'd but one man? Now is it Rome indeed, and room enough, 25 When there is in it but one only man. O! you and I have heard our fathers say There was a Brutus once that would have brook'd Th' eternal devil to keep his state in Rome 30 As easily as a king. That you do love me, I am nothing jealous; Brutus: What you would work me to, I have some aim; How I have thought of this, and of these times, I shall recount hereafter. For this present, I would not, so with love I might entreat you. 35 Be any further mov'd. What you have said I will consider; what you have to say I will with patience hear; and find a time Both meet to hear and answer such high things. Till then, my noble friend, chew upon this: 40 Brutus had rather be a villager Than to repute himself a son of Rome Under these hard conditions as this time Is like to lay upon us. Cassius: I am glad that my weak words 45 Have struck but thus much show of fire from Brutus. Re-enter Caesar and his Train. Brutus: The games are done, and Caesar is returning. Cassius: As they pass by, pluck Casca by the sleeve, And he will, after his sour fashion, tell you 50

What hath proceeded worthy note to-day. I will do so. Brutus:
