www.papacambridge.com MARK SCHEME for the October/November 2010 question paper for the guidance of teachers

0470 HISTORY

0470/42

Paper 4 (Alternative to Coursework), maximum raw mark 40

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes must be read in conjunction with the question papers and the report on the examination.

CIE will not enter into discussions or correspondence in connection with these mark schemes.

CIE is publishing the mark schemes for the October/November 2010 question papers for most IGCSE, GCE Advanced Level and Advanced Subsidiary Level syllabuses and some Ordinary Level syllabuses.

 - Level 2 Multiple reasons. One for each reason, one for each reason explained.
 - e.g. 1988 and 1989 had seen severe economic problems in China with high inflation levels; for two months demonstrators demanded an increase in the pace of democratic reform, and protested CCP corruption; encouraged by the Gorbachev reforms in USSR and excited by his proposed visit on 15–18 May; power struggle in CCP hierarchy so mixed messages were given to the protesters. However, force was used on 3–4 June to disperse the protesters. [2–6]
- (iv) Level 1 Simple assertion. Yes, capitalist businesses are now in China. [1]
 - Level 2 Explanation of change OR lack of change, single factor given, e.g.
 - Chan Deng did not see that it was anti-communist for people to enrich themselves; hence a decentralisation of much of the old communist interference in trade and a loosening of economic doctrine to allow foreign investment and international financial cooperation. Changes mostly in the financial and economic sectors.
 - Lack Very little true political reform; CCP remained very firmly in control of development; some mild building on previous Communist reforms with regard to health, welfare, education and women. [2]
