

1. March/2023/Paper_0417/12/No.9

A web page can contain three web development layers. One of these is the content layer.

(a) State one use of the content layer.

.....
.....

[1]

(b) Identify the other two web development layers and give a use for each.

1 .....

Use .....

.....

2 .....

Use .....

.....

[4]

2. June/2023/Paper_0417/11/No.9

(a) Absolute and relative file paths are used in the content layer when creating a web page.

(i) Explain the differences between an absolute file path and a relative file path.

.....
.....
.....

[2]

(ii) Explain why absolute file paths should not be used for hyperlinks to locally-saved web pages.

.....
.....

[1]

(b) Anchors and hyperlinks are both used in HTML.

Compare an anchor with a hyperlink. Your answer must include similarities and differences.

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

[4]

3. June/2023/Paper\_0417/12/No.10

Metatags can be used in a web page.

(a) A metatag can be used to define the viewport settings.

Identify three other items that can be defined in metatags.

1 .....

2 .....

3 .....

[3]

(b) Metatags are used in the HTML of web pages.

State the section of the HTML which contains the metatags.

.....

[1]

4. June/2023/Paper_0417/13/No.12

A web page has an attached stylesheet in the head section and also has an inline style attribute in the body section.

Explain why the inline style attribute is used.

.....

.....

.....

.....

[2]

5. March/2024/Paper_0417/12/No.14

A stylesheet for a website can contain both styles and classes.

(a) Explain the differences between a style and a class.

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

[3]

(b) State the web development layer where the stylesheet is used.

.....

[1]

