Introducing...

AS Level in Sociology (from September 2015)

Our AS Level in Sociology specification provides your students with the exciting opportunity to gain a deeper understanding of the world around them and reflect on social issues that are often relevant to their own social experiences. They open up the possibility for fascinating discussions, for example ‘what impact do digital forms of communication have on social relations?’, ‘how do sociologists investigate inequality in society?’ and ‘what are the patterns and trends of religion in relation to social class?’

Through the specification, students can acquire knowledge and a critical understanding of contemporary social processes and social changes. They have the opportunity to develop a broad set of desirable key skills, including the ability to analyse and formulate clear, logical arguments with scope for extensive evaluation from a range of theoretical perspectives.

Developing strong critical thinking skills and being able to consider issues with a global outlook will be of huge benefit to your students moving forward, whether this is in further education, the workplace or society in general.

Teaching and learning resources

We recognise that the introduction of a new specification can bring challenges for implementation and teaching. Our aim is to help you at every stage and we're working hard to provide a practical package of support in close consultation with teachers and other experts, so we can help you to make the change.

Designed to support progression for all

Our resources are designed to provide you with a range of teaching activities and suggestions so you can select the best approach for your particular students. You are the experts on how your students learn and our aim is to support you in the best way we can.

We want to...

- Support you with a body of knowledge that grows throughout the lifetime of the specification
- Provide you with a range of suggestions so you can select the best activity, approach or context for your particular students
- Make it easier for you to explore and interact with our resource materials, in particular to develop your own schemes of work
- Create an ongoing conversation so we can develop materials that work for you.

Plenty of useful resources

You'll have four main types of subject-specific teaching and learning resources at your fingertips:

- Delivery Guides
- Transition Guides
- Topic Exploration Packs
- Lesson Elements.

Along with subject-specific resources, you'll also have access to a selection of generic resources that focus on skills development and professional guidance for teachers.

Skills Guides – we've produced a set of Skills Guides that are not specific to Sociology, but each covers a topic that could be relevant to a range of qualifications – for example, communication, legislation and research. Download the guides at ocr.org.uk/skillsguides

Active Results – a free online results analysis service to help you review the performance of individual students or your whole school. It provides access to detailed results data, enabling more comprehensive analysis of results in order to give you a more accurate measurement of the achievements of your centre and individual students. For more details refer to ocr.org.uk/activeresults

Professional development

Take advantage of our improved Professional Development Programme, designed with you in mind. Whether you want to come to face-to-face events, look at our new digital training or search for training materials, you can find what you're looking for all in one place at the CPD Hub.

An introduction to the new specifications

We'll be running events to help you get to grips with our AS Level in Sociology qualification.

These events are designed to help prepare you for first teaching and to support your delivery at every stage.

Watch out for details at cpdhub.org.uk

1 Why choose an OCR AS Level in Sociology?

1a. Why choose an OCR qualification?

Choose OCR and you've got the reassurance that you're working with one of the UK's leading exam boards. Our new AS Level in Sociology course has been developed in consultation with teachers, employers and Higher Education to provide students with a qualification that's relevant to them and meets their needs.

We're part of the Cambridge Assessment Group, Europe's largest assessment agency and a department of the University of Cambridge. Cambridge Assessment plays a leading role in developing and delivering assessments throughout the world, operating in over 150 countries.

We work with a range of education providers, including schools, colleges, workplaces and other institutions in both the public and private sectors. Over 13,000 centres choose our A Levels, GCSEs and vocational qualifications including Cambridge Nationals and Cambridge Technicals.

Our Specifications

We believe in developing specifications that help you bring the subject to life and inspire your students to achieve more.

We've created teacher-friendly specifications based on extensive research and engagement with the teaching community. They're designed to be straightforward and accessible so that you can tailor the delivery of the course to suit your needs. We aim to encourage learners to become responsible for their own learning, confident in discussing ideas, innovative and engaged.

We provide a range of support services designed to help you at every stage, from preparation through to the delivery of our specifications. This includes:

- A wide range of high-quality creative resources including:
 - Delivery Guides
 - Transition Guides
 - Topic Exploration Packs
 - Lesson Elements
 - ...and much more.
- Access to subject specialists to support you through the transition and throughout the lifetimes of the specifications.
- CPD/Training for teachers to introduce the qualifications and prepare you for first teaching.
- Active Results – our free results analysis service to help you review the performance of individual students or whole schools.
- ExamCreator – our new online past papers service that enables you to build your own test papers from past OCR exam questions.

All AS level qualifications offered by OCR are accredited by Ofqual, the Regulator for qualifications offered in England QN 601/3996/1.

1b. Why choose an OCR AS Level in Sociology?

This practical and engaging course has been redeveloped after feedback from teachers and other key stakeholders. The content has been designed to inspire, nurture and develop learners. The most popular aspects of previous qualifications have been retained or enhanced. This qualification is designed to foster the development of critical and reflective thinking with a respect for social diversity; and to encourage an awareness of the importance of social structure and social action in explaining social issues.

Learners are encouraged to develop their own sociological awareness through active involvement with the contemporary social world.

Our AS Level in Sociology specification is designed to encourage learners to be inspired, moved and changed by following a broad, coherent, satisfying and worthwhile course of study and to reflect on their own experience of the social world to enhance their ability to play informed roles within different social contexts. It prepares learners to make informed decisions about further learning opportunities and career choices.

Aims and learning outcomes

The main purpose of the specification is to prepare learners to progress to a qualification in the same subject area but at a higher level of or requiring more specific knowledge, skills and understanding.

Secondary purposes include preparing learners to progress to a qualification in another subject area, preparing learners for employment and giving learners personal growth and engagement in learning.

Our AS level specification in Sociology enables learners to:

- recognise that their sociological knowledge, understanding and skills help them to develop an understanding of the interrelationships between individuals, groups, institutions and societies
- analyse critically the nature and sources of information and to base reasoned judgements and arguments on evidence
- organise and communicate their knowledge and understanding in different and creative ways, and reach substantiated judgements
- appreciate the significance of theoretical and conceptual issues in sociological debate
- understand and evaluate sociological methodology and a range of research methods through active involvement in the research process
- develop skills that enable individuals to focus on their personal identity, roles and responsibilities within society
- develop a lifelong interest in social issues.

1c. What are the key features of this specification?

From September 2015, the AS Level in Sociology is made up of two mandatory components which are externally assessed.

Our AS Level in Sociology qualification has been designed to be co-teachable with the first year of the A level. The specification content is identical to the A level content for Component 1 and Component 2 Section A. Component 2 Section B has a reduced amount of content.

Here are some of the key benefits of our new AS Level in Sociology specification for you and your students:

- a straightforward specification with detailed guidance to support delivery
- improved support, resources and more teacher guidance
- strong focus on key sociological themes
- choice for teachers and students with options in Component 1.

2b. Content of AS Level in Sociology (H180)

The AS level specification content is set out in three parts:

1. Key questions – the key question to be explored.
2. Content – sociological concepts and theories which should be included for each key issue.

3. Learners should – this provides content amplification to explain in more detail what learners need to know for the assessment of this qualification.

Although not directly assessed, learners are encouraged to carry out their own small-scale research projects as a way of enhancing their sociological understanding of methodology, substantive topic areas and core themes.

2c. Content of Socialisation, culture and identity: (01)

This component introduces learners to the key themes of socialisation, culture and identity and develops these themes through the context of one of three options of Families and relationships, Youth subcultures or Media.

These options develop skills that enable individuals to focus on their personal identity, roles and responsibilities within society and develop a lifelong interest in social issues. The following tables outline the content that must be studied. This is split into two sections, Section A and Section B.

2c. Content of Researching and understanding social inequalities: (02)

This component explores the methods of sociological enquiry and develops knowledge and understanding of contemporary social processes and social change in the context of social inequality and difference.

This component aims to foster the development of critical and reflective thinking with a respect for social diversity in terms of social class and gender. It develops links between the nature of sociological thought and methods of sociological enquiry.

Although not directly assessed, this component encourages learners to carry out their own small-scale research projects as a way of enhancing their sociological understanding of methodology, substantive topic areas and core themes.

The following tables outline the content that must be studied. This is split into two sections, Section A and Section B.

Section A: Research methods and researching social inequalities

In this section, learners are introduced to a range of methods and sources of data as well as the factors influencing the design of sociological research and the relationship between theory and methods. Learners are encouraged to consider the practical, ethical and theoretical issues arising in sociological research and to apply knowledge of research methods to the particular context of social inequalities.

Key questions	Content	Learners should:
1. What is the relationship between theory and methods?	Positivism: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • patterns • trends • objectivity • value freedom • quantitative data Interpretivism: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • meanings and experiences • verstehen and empathy • rapport • subjectivity • researcher imposition • reflexivity • qualitative data Key research concepts: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • validity • reliability • representativeness • generalisability 	understand how social research is guided by theory. use these concepts in an evaluative way when considering the research process and methodological theories.

Section A: Research methods and researching social inequalities

Key questions	Content	Learners should:
3. Which methods are used in sociological research?	Research methods: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> questionnaires structured interviews statistical data (official and non-official) content analysis observations (participant/non-participant/covert/overt) unstructured interviews semi structured interviews ethnography Quantitative and qualitative data Mixed methods <ul style="list-style-type: none"> triangulation methodological pluralism 	consider the uses of research methods in the context of social inequalities.

Section B: Understanding social inequalities

Within this section learners will have the opportunity to develop knowledge and understanding of contemporary patterns and trends of social inequality.

Key questions	Content	Learners should:
1. What are the main patterns and trends in social inequality and difference?	Social inequality and difference in relation to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> social class gender 	consider the main patterns and trends in relation to work and employment. consider evidence of social inequalities from a range of areas of social life. consider how social inequalities affect life chances.
2. How can patterns and trends in social inequality and difference be explained?	The main sociological explanations of social inequality and difference: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> functionalism Marxism feminism 	have an understanding of the distinctive concepts and ideas associated with each theory.

2d. Prior learning, knowledge and progression

No prior knowledge of the subject is required. The specification builds on, but does not depend on, the knowledge, understanding and skills specified for GCSE Sociology.

Throughout the course of study, learners are encouraged to develop a critical awareness of sociological concepts and issues in contemporary society. This specification is designed to foster the development of critical and reflective thinking with a respect for social diversity; and to encourage an awareness of the importance of social structure and social action in explaining social issues.

The specification therefore provides a suitable foundation for the study of sociology or related courses at a higher level.

Equally it is suitable for preparing learners intending to progress to a qualification in another subject area, preparing learners for employment and giving learners personal growth and engagement in learning.

3 Assessment of OCR AS in Sociology

3a. Forms of assessment

The AS Level in Sociology is a linear qualification with 100% external assessment.

This qualification consists of two examined components. Both Sections A and B of each components will test all three Assessment Objectives.

Component 01:

Socialisation, culture and identity

Section A: Introducing socialisation, culture and identity

A mix of short and medium tariff compulsory questions, some based on source material.

Section B: Options

Learners choose one from a choice of three options (either Families and relationships, Youth subcultures or Media)

Within each option, there will be three questions that will test the quality of extended responses via the levels of response mark scheme.

Component 02:

Researching and understanding social inequalities

Section A: Research methods and researching social inequalities

A mix of short and medium tariff compulsory questions, some based on source material.

Section B: Understanding social inequalities

There will be two compulsory questions that will test the quality of extended responses via the levels of response mark scheme.

3b. Assessment objectives (AO)

There are three assessment objectives in OCR AS level Sociology.

These are detailed in the table below. Learners are expected to demonstrate their ability to:

	Assessment Objective	Weighting
AO1	Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of: <ul style="list-style-type: none">sociological theories, concepts and evidencesociological research methods	40-50%
AO2	Apply sociological theories, concepts, evidence and research methods to a range of issues	30-35%
AO3	Analyse and evaluate sociological theories, concepts, evidence and research methods in order to: <ul style="list-style-type: none">present argumentsmake judgementsdraw conclusions	20-25%

AO weightings in AS Level in Sociology

The relationship between the assessment objectives and the components are shown in the following table:

Component	% of AS Level
	AO1	AO2	AO3
Socialisation, culture and identity (H180/01)	45 – 50%	30 – 35%	15 – 20%
Researching and understanding social inequalities (H180/02)	45 – 50%	25 – 30%	20 – 25%

3c. Assessment availability

There will be one examination series available each year in May/June to all learners.

This specification will be certificated from the June 2016 examination series onwards.

3d. Retaking the qualification

Learners can retake the qualification as many times as they wish. They retake both components of the qualification.

3e. Assessment of extended response

The assessment materials for this qualification provide learners with the opportunity to demonstrate their ability to construct and develop a sustained and coherent line of reasoning and marks for extended responses are integrated into the marking criteria.

3f. Synoptic assessment

Synoptic assessment draws together the knowledge, understanding and skills learnt in different aspects of the AS level Sociology course. It includes the explicit assessment of understanding of the connections between the nature of sociological thought; methods of sociological enquiry; and the two core themes using higher order skills.

Synoptic learning in sociology engages students in theoretical debate while encouraging an active involvement in the research process. It fosters a critical awareness of contemporary social processes and change.

Learners are encouraged to think holistically and develop their skills of thinking as a sociologist.

3g. Calculating Qualification Results

A learner's overall qualification grade for AS level in Sociology will be calculated by adding together their marks from the two components taken to give their total weighted mark.

This mark will then be compared to the qualification level grade boundaries for the qualification for the relevant exam series to determine the learner's overall qualification grade.

4 Admin: what you need to know

The information in this section is designed to give an overview of the processes involved in administering this qualification so that you can speak to your exams officer. All of the following processes require you to submit something to OCR by a specific deadline.

More information about these processes, together with the deadlines, can be found in the OCR Admin Guide and Entry Codes: 14–19 Qualifications, which can be downloaded from the OCR website:

www.ocr.org.uk

4a. Pre-assessment

Estimated entries

Estimated entries are your best projection of the number of learners who will be entered for a qualification in a particular series. Estimated entries should be submitted to OCR by the specified deadline. They are free and do not commit your centre in any way.

Final entries

Final entries provide OCR with detailed data for each learner, showing each assessment to be taken. It is essential that you use the correct entry code, considering the relevant entry rules.

Final entries must be submitted to OCR by the published deadlines or late entry fees will apply.

All learners taking AS level in Sociology must be entered for H180.

Entry code	Title	Component code	Component title	Assessment type
H180	AS Sociology	01	Socialisation, culture and identity	External Assessment
		02	Researching and understanding social inequalities	External Assessment

4b. Accessibility and special consideration

Reasonable adjustments and access arrangements allow learners with special educational needs, disabilities or temporary injuries to access the assessment and show what they know and can do, without changing the demands of the assessment. Applications for these should be made before the examination series. Detailed information about eligibility for access arrangements can be found in the JCQ Access Arrangements and Reasonable Adjustments.

Special consideration is a post-assessment adjustment to marks or grades to reflect temporary injury, illness or other indisposition at the time the assessment was taken.

Detailed information about eligibility for special consideration can be found in the JCQ A guide to the special consideration process.

4c. External assessment arrangements

Regulations governing examination arrangements are contained in the JCQ Instructions for conducting examinations.

Head of centre annual declaration

The Head of Centre is required to provide a declaration to the JCQ as part of the annual NCN update, conducted in the autumn term, to confirm that the centre is meeting all of the requirements detailed in the specification. Any failure by a centre to provide the Head of Centre Annual Declaration will result in your centre status being suspended and could lead to the withdrawal of our approval for you to operate as a centre.

4d. Results and certificates

Grade scale

Advanced Subsidiary qualifications are graded on the scale: A, B, C, D, E, where A is the highest. Learners who fail to reach the minimum standard for E will be Unclassified (U). Only subjects in which grades A to E are attained will be recorded on certificates.

Results

Results are released to centres and learners for information and to allow any queries to be resolved before certificates are issued.

Centres will have access to the following results' information for each learner:

- the grade for the qualification
- the raw mark for each component
- the total weighted mark for the qualification.

The following supporting information will be available:

- raw mark grade boundaries for each component
- weighted mark grade boundaries for each qualification.

Until certificates are issued, results are deemed to be provisional and may be subject to amendment. A learner's final results will be recorded on an OCR certificate.

The qualification title will be shown on the certificate as 'OCR Level 3 Advanced Subsidiary GCE in Sociology'.

4e. Post-results services

A number of post-results services are available:

- Enquiries about results – If you are not happy with the outcome of a learner's results, centres may submit an enquiry about results.
- Missing and incomplete results – This service should be used if an individual subject result for a learner is missing, or the learner has been omitted entirely from the results supplied.
- Access to scripts – Centres can request access to marked scripts.

4f. Malpractice

Any breach of the regulations for the conduct of examinations and coursework may constitute malpractice (which includes maladministration) and must be reported to OCR as soon as it is detected.

Detailed information on malpractice can be found in the JCQ Suspected Malpractice in Examinations and Assessments: Policies and Procedures.

5 Appendices

5a. Overlap with other qualifications

There is no significant overlap between the content of this specification and those for other AS level qualifications.

5b. Avoidance of bias

The AS level qualification and subject criteria have been reviewed in order to identify any feature which could disadvantage candidates who share a protected characteristic as defined by the Equality Act 2010. All reasonable steps have been taken to minimise any such disadvantage.
